INCLOSURE OF PUBLIC LANDS.

The Oakland Tribune, upon the subject of stockmen inclosing large bodies of public land, and the recent circular in relation thereto by Commissioner McFarland, says that not long since a man came to San Francisco from some part of the country, and with a check harder than the iron steps leading to the Land Office, stated to the Register that he had run a brush fence around several thousand acres of Government land, and he would have to request Register Wheaton to see that he allowed no claims to be filed against such lands. Such persons have heretofore relied on a State law, which prohibits any person from breaking through any inclosure, thereby protecting the land grabbers from settlers who are after a homestead. It has been a matter of great interest, as may be supposed, to those who are anxious for the development of the State, and for some time a question as to how the difficulty could be avoided and the public lands kept open for settlement. The result of this agitation is seen in the Commissioner's circular, and the affirmation that the Government will proceed against all persons unlawfully inclosing land shows that a way has been found to keep the public domain open. The United States Marshal will, when inclosures are erected, demolish them, as he has the right to do, and the barriers being thus removed, the bona fide settler will not have to run his head into the noose of the State law by tearing down a land grabber's fence to get a plot of ground to settle upon.

The Oakland Tribune, in discussing the labor question in California, says it is becoming a serious matter, but it might be solved if the idle boys and girls of the large cities of the State could be induced to go into the country and lead industrious lives. But there is little hope from this class—it seems they prefer vagabondage and hoodlumism to respectable industry. The only hope lies in the immigration of the industrious classes of the East and the Old World, and active measures should be taken to secure this immigration.

Pennsylvania is undoubtedly a Blaine State, and that he was deprived of its vote in the last two National Republican Presidential Conventions is due to trickery and bossism alone. His strength is apparently quite as great in the State today as at any time during the past eight years. A canvass was made recently of the Republican members of the lower house of the Legislature, and it resulted as follows: Blaine, 43; Edmunds, 21; Lincoln, 3; Grant, 2; Sherman, 1; W. D. Kelley, 1; Blaine or Edmunds, 1; undecided 10; absent, 4.

A little twelve-year old girl in Knoxville, Iowa, was frightened to death by a severe thunder storm a few nights ago. She had been quite well the day before, but awoke during the storm and besought her mother to take her to her bed, "for she was afraid of thunder." Her supplications were unheeded, and soon the mother was aroused by the child's difficult breathing. Approaching the bed with a light, she found her in a dying condition, and in a few moments she breathed her last.

In a lengthy editorial on Fair, and others possessed of immense wealth, the Salt Lake Tribune concludes sensibly with the following words: "When a man gets sufficient money to relieve him from the petty cares of life, and sufficient to secure his independence from want and unusual hardships, he is just as rich as he ever can be though his gold may be piled mountain high, and after independence is secured every added dollar is but an added care."

The planet Jupiter has been absorbing an unusual share of the attention of astronomers lately. The bright red spot which for the past eighty years has illuminated about 180,000,000 square miles of the planet's surface has disappeared, now phenomena having taken its place. The form and color of the belt are changing, and various bright tinted streaks are visible on the disc, which the observers are at a loss to account for.

Charles A. Dana has felt himself moved to say: "This is a great country. While the citizens of Florida and California are arrayed in fine linen and luxuriating in strawberries, those on the northern border, muffled in furs are enjoying sleigh riding."

It is rumored that President Arthur contemplates spending his Summer vacation in California, and that he will, if his plans mature as now expected, arrive in the month of August.

Wm. H. Mills, General Land Agent of the Central Pacific, accompanied by R. L. Fulton, one of his subordinate officials, left Reno for Salt Lake yesterday morning.

A NEW IDEA.
A Correspondent Suggests the Erection of Small Wool Factories.

In regard to the action of eastern buyers concerning the Pacific Coast wool product a correspondent of the S. F. Examiner makes the following suggestion as a practical offset:

It is a well-known fact that the wool trade of California is and has been in a very unsatisfactory state for some years back, and this season promises to not be an exception to the past, with a still worse outlook, as we see in some eastern journals reports that the eastern wool-buyers have come to the conclusion to not come to California this season to buy wool. By this means they intend to force California wools into the hands of eastern houses, to be slaughtered at their pleasure, and as soon as the Northern road is completed San Francisco will lose all the Oregon and northern wool trade, thus cutting off all her choice wool, leaving San Francisco a market of second and third class wool, and at the same time having to put them into the eastern market in competition with the choicest wools in the world. It is easy to see the consequences, both to the growers and the dealers of California. Now, in the face of all these questions will arise, What is to be done to remedy this? The answer is, Commence manufacturing, build factories and manufacture the wool into goods. By this means it will create a manufacturers' wool market. Wool will be sold direct from the dealer to the manufacturer, and sold on its merits, as every sack would be handled by practical men, thus giving the growers the actual value of their wool and encourage them to handle their wools right, knowing they would be paid for so doing.

San Francisco is and will be the great center of commerce on the Pacific Coast. It has all the advantages that a commercial city can have. It has access to the whole world by land and water. It has the finest climate in the world for a manufacturing city. Build small factories—four set mills with, say, 960 spindles, and no larger. Let them be handled by practical men and be run on fair, square, economical principles with every economy and they are sure of success. A mill of the above dimensions can be started and run with a capital of $50,000, purchasing everything, and having capital enough to run with. A factory of this kind cannot go wrong in manufacturing blankets, flannels, cassimers, shawls, repellants, hosiery, stocking yarns, etc. Those can all be made here at a profit of at least 30 to 40 per cent, net. In regard to this the writer knows exactly what he is writing.

There could be fifty such factories run successfully here, employing $2,000,000 per annum at a good profit, besides employing at least three thousand hands. A factory of the above dimensions will manufacture from three hundred and fifty to four hundred thousand pounds of wool per year; and with the factories now in operation, we would create a wool market of no small dimensions. The above goods can be made here cheaper than in any other city in the United States, and put in competition with any goods on any market. There is no reason why San Francisco should not rank among the leading manufacturing cities of the world in less than five years. The amount of woolen machinery running on the fifty-six sets will use 4,500,000 pounds per year showing that with the above addition, they would use up all the wool produced, and in a very few years make this a city of import, instead of exporting wools.

Wool Market.

The condition of the wool market is stated by the Bulletin to be as follows:

There are three or four Eastern buyers here, but as yet they have not done any business. Nevertheless, examination of wools to a considerable extent has been going on. The views of buyers and sellers, unfortunately, are far apart, though sellers seem to be willing enough to deal on a much lower basis of values than ruled last year. One of the principle buyers is said to have intimated an inclination to do business, provided he can get wools at his own prices. From this circumstance, it is a fair inference that there is not much prospect of any immediate large transactions, as in fact the other parties are understood to want about the same terms. Yet holders are not disappointed nor discouraged. However yielding they might be in regard to values as compared to last Spring, it would be almost impossible to at once satisfy the views of the buyers on the question of concessions. Another glance over the field may cause a different estimate of the various offerings to be made by purchasers, in which case it is quite possible that considerable wool will be moved by the 15th instant but as to how much concession will have to be made to assure this result we are not prepared to say. Asking rates are 12@16 for poor, shrunken and defective lots, and 16@20 for good to best parcels.

The situation at Eastern centers is described in a recent circular issued by Mauger & Avery of New York, as follows: "The apathy of buyers, noted in previous circulars, has continued to the present time without the slightest improvement. Holders have been moderately firm as to prices, but sales have been effected by concessions, and values are to a great extent entirely nominal. The state of affairs is largely owing to the natural reaction from the pseudo boom in January, which has caused large shipments from England of native and colonial wools, nearly three million pounds Australian having been bought for American at the February sales. Buyers of wool are deterred from purchasing also by the uncertainty as to the final effect of the revised tariff on the price of foreign wools after the first of July, and they fear that possibly the reduction on wools and yarns may prove greater than upon the raw material, and thus allow of large importations of the manufactured article."

You can buy a first-class sewing machine twenty-five per cent. cheaper at Osburn & Shoemaker's than elsewhere in the State.

THE SUNSET ROUTE.
Rapid Transportation of Merchandise from New York to San Francisco via New Orleans.

[S. F. Bulletin.]

The success of the "Sunset Route" as a channel for through freight between the East and California seems to be assured, as already about one-half of the goods shipped from New York to this coast come by way of New Orleans. The through rate is somewhat less than by other routes, but the difference is probably made up in a great measure by increased insurance and other expenses attending the mixed character of the transportation. The great advantage claimed for the new line under control of the Southern Pacific Railroad is in the character of the services rendered. By the all-rail lines there has been more or less delay, and a merchant could never count on any fixed day. Such freight passes over the lines of several independent corporations, and the control of the movement of trains is divided, each road governing trains on its line alone. In consequence there has been, as it were, no through service, but a series of local services. The average time for freight between New York and San Francisco has been thirty days, but variations have been, probably, more often above than below this figure. And with this there has been no certainty that goods would arrive within the average time.

But the control by the Southern Pacific of the entire line of railroad between this city and New Orleans, and their recently purchased line of steamships between New Orleans and New York, has enabled the California road to give fast and reliable service, which is appreciated by shippers to the extent above mentioned. Freight has been moved between New York and San Francisco in fifteen days, and the average is sixteen days. General Traffic Manager Stubbs says that the aim of the Southern Pacific road will be to give such service that merchants can rely upon receiving their goods within eighteen or twenty days. They do not claim better time, but, as seen above, they performed more than they promised. Freight can be moved from New York to New Orleans in seven days, and from New Orleans to San Francisco in nine days, and over the whole route the Southern Pacific has complete control. From the office in this city every train is watched and regulated, and in case of delay it can be hurried up. The freight from New Orleans is exactly the same as that from St. Louis, the advantage of which shippers get the benefit lying in the steamship line. The advantages of this line are thought to be so great that the openings of the route by the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad in July will not sensibly affect it.

BITTER BREAD.

Complaint is frequently made by those who use baking powders that they leave in bread, biscuit, or cake raised by them a disagreeable, bitter taste. This taste follows the use of all impure baking powders, and is caused either by containing alum (introduced to make a cheap article), by the impure and adulterated character of other ingredients used, or from the ignorance of their manufacturers of the proper methods of combining them. These baking powders leave in the bread a residuum formed of lime, earth, alum, or other deleterious matters, not always, though frequently, tastable in the food, and by all physicians classed as injurious to health. The Royal Baking Powder is free from this serious defect. In its use no residuum is left, and the loaf raised by it is always sweet, light and wholesome, and noticeably free from the peculiar taste complained of. The reason of this is because it is composed of nothing but absolutely pure materials, scientifically combined in exactly the proper proportions of acid and alkali to act upon and destroy each other, while producing the largest amount of raising power. We are justified in this assertion from the unqualified statements made by the Government chemists, who after thorough and exhaustive tests recommended the "Royal" for Governmental use because of its superiority over all others in purity, strength and wholesomeness. There is no danger of bitter bread or biscuit where it alone is used.

Beautiful Answers.

A Persian pupil of the Abbe Siorod, gave the following extraordinary answers: "What is gratitude?" "Gratitude is the memory of the heart." "What is hope?" "Hope is the blossom of happiness." "What is the difference between hope and desire?" "Desire is a tree in leaf; hope is a tree in flower; and enjoyment is a tree in fruit." "What is eternity?" "A day without yesterday or to-morrow; a line that has no end." "What is time?" "A line that has no ends, a path which begins in the cradle and ends in the tomb."

Tom Fitch.

At the mass meeting after the Philadelphia Convention "Hon. Thos. Fitch of Tombstone, Arizona," grew eloquent over the story of Ireland's wrongs. He of the silver tongue is a wizard with the English language, says the Sacramento Bee, but would think nothing half an hour after that speech of eulogizing the British Government and pouring down torrents of denunciation upon the Emerald Isle—provided always it were made worth his while. He is an orator without a compass, a genius tessing recklessly about with the shifting currents of parties and principles.

Time and Expense Saved.

BREVITIES.

An assessment of $1 has been levied upon Utah.

What old cases will the next Grand Jury pick up?

Rock Mason came up from the Bay yesterday morning.

J. R. Shaw, of Dayton, returned from Salt Lake last night.

Hawthorne is about to organize an amateur dramatic society.

District Attorney Cresswell, of Lander, came in from Austin last night en route to Carson.

David Davis, ex-President of the U. S. Senate, will pass through Reno this morning on his way East.

Jas. McMillan, U. S. Indian Agent for Nevada, came in from the Walker River Reservation last night.

The Gazette press broke down yesterday afternoon, and the paper had to be worked off in the Journal office.

A. E. Cheney, of Eureka, came in last night en route to Carson to attend to some business before the Supreme Court.

Col. W. S. Wood, of San Francisco, was a passenger for Eureka yesterday morning to attend to some law business for the Albion Co.

Giovanni Orzetti, an insane patient from Austin, was brought in by Sheriff Dunlap, of Austin, last night, and delivered to Supt. Bishop.

Some of our citizens want another citizens' meeting to arrange for Memorial Day observances, a meeting is talked of for to-morrow evening.

Alvaro Evans left yesterday morning on a trip to Salt Lake. There is no truth in the rumor that he will aspire to the Presidency of the Church.

The Kate Greenaway party Friday evening will be the first for Reno. The young ladies must not forget to have their lunch baskets well filled.

The Reno Gas Co., through Supt. Leete, rejoices in new receipts from an Oakland establishment. There is nothing like spending your money at home—and particularly for printing.

The Carson Index says between the Truckee and Carson rivers there are forty-three ranches owned exclusively by Italians. The largest one is owned by Frank Baciolupo, who is planting nothing but grain this season.

Mr. C. P. Mason has tendered his resignation as Purchasing Supply Agent of the V. & T. R. R. Company, to take effect July 1. Hume Yerington will take the position made vacant. Mr. Mason goes to Salt Lake, where he has been offered a fourth interest and general management of a large machinery manufacturing establishment, started by Eastern capitalists.

Bursting Dam.

The dam across the Humboldt river, at Lovelock, was washed out Monday night, flooding several farms below it. It belonged to Marzen, Marker and other extensive farmers on the Big Meadows, and was used in diverting the waters of the Humboldt for irrigating purposes. The loss is considerable, and will be much greater if the high water prevents its being replaced until late in the season. The weather is unseasonably wet and cool for the season. Some five inches of snow fell at Humboldt Wells, up the river, Monday night.

A Mining Sale.

The Enterprise says E. W. Harris has sold half his interest in the mine known as the Bessie Kirby, and situated near Washoe Lake, to Eastern parties. A boarding house, blacksmith shop and other necessary buildings will be erected at once. Mr. Harris retains the position of Superintendent. The purchasers estimate that there is in sight in the mine not less than $35,000. Much money has already been taken out of the mine by Mr. Harris, who still retains a controlling interest.

Drummers, Beware!

A circular has been issued by the State Controller giving a complete list of the commercial travelers in this State. The list contains the names of twenty persons who have procured licenses as traveling merchants, soliciting agents, or drummers, to do business in this State. All persons not having such a license may be arrested by any officer of the law when found attempting to do business.

Fruit Killed.

Farmer Guthrie, of the Sonoma ranch, informs the Silver State, that his fruit was nearly all killed by the late frosts. There is not a peach in his orchard and very few apples, where last year he raised hundreds of boxes of both, and the severe cold of last winter killed several peach trees.

"NOT GUILTY."

Verdict of the Jury in the Savings Bank Case.

The trial of Kinkadee and Crockett was continued and concluded yesterday. It was very evident from the manner in which the case proceeded that the State was not making out a case, and it was the general comment that the prosecution was almost farcical. Judge Rising allowed the State every possible latitude but their evidence was totally insufficient to warrant a conviction, and the Judge declared there was not any testimony tending to criminate Kinkadee, and that every act performed by him complained of was a lawful act, and that so far as Crockett was concerned, the indictment would not hold good, and when he instructed the jury he told them in as many words to acquit him. At 2 P. M. the State rested its case, and the defense declined to offer any testimony, asking the Judge to advise the jury to acquit.

JUDGE RISING'S INSTRUCTIONS.

After stating the law of embezzlement and other propositions, the Judge said: It appears from the evidence in this case, that on the 23d day of June, 1880, at the time of the closing of the doors of the Reno Savings Bank, there was in said bank about $24,000 in coin and securities. It also appears that on the 23d of June, 1880, Jas. Kinkadee, R. M. Clarke and L. L. Crockett were creditors of the bank, R. M. Clarke in a large amount, Jas. H. Kinkadee in the sum of $11,505 in coin, and bonds to the amount of $5,000; making in all $16,505; that L. L. Crockett was a creditor in the sum of $8,278. It further appears that there was drawn from said bank by Jas. Kinkadee on 23d of June, 1880, upon his check, $12,787. Also that L. L. Crockett upon the same day drew $1,111 65. Further, to secure the said Crockett, Jas. H. Kinkadee as Manager of the bank, endorsed or assigned to Crockett securities of the bank amounting to $10,507, upon which had been endorsed previous to the assignment $929, leaving a balance due upon said securities of $9,578. So far as the acts of Jas. H. Kinkadee are concerned (Crockett being out of the case), as a matter of law he had a perfect right to pay Jas. H. Kinkadee the $12,787 specified—L. L. Crockett the $1,111 75 specified; also to assign to Crockett the securities aforesaid; and, further, it is the opinion of the Court that the prosecution in this case so far as the evidence is concerned have failed to show any act on the part of the defendants that will warrant you in finding a conviction. The jury retired and as quickly as possible returned with a verdict of "Not Guilty," whereupon the defendants were discharged, and received the congratulations of their friends upon the termination of the case.

AMATEUR ARTISTS

The Ladies at Work with Brush and Easel.

Decorative art is just at present all the rage among the ladies of Reno. A few months ago the topic of conversation among the fair ones, was for the most part concerning embroidery, and the uninitiated could not fail to be confused when listening to an animated discussion concerning the various merits of Kensington, outline stitch, Oriental stitch, etc., for use in designs to be done in crewels, silks, flosses, and lots of other such mysterious materials, but now the brush has superseded the needle, and the art of painting, especially in the line of oils, is the supreme point of interest. A few of our ladies have long been considered as possessed of considerable artistic talent, and numbers are finding out that they have at least a taste and aptitude for the work. We have seen a number of really beautiful pieces finished within the last few weeks. Most of them have been clusters and sprays of flowers, painted upon the tinted plaques and panels, that are considered so ornamental. One large plaque was gilded and delicate figures, such as might be supposed to illustrate mythological legends, were introduced among the bunches of roses and ferns. One lady finished an exquisite copy of the much admired plaque that has so long adorned the glass of a merchant in town. There were two beautiful plate glass mirrors, with their ebonyed frames, decorated with snowy pond lilies, drooping buds and leaves on the mirror itself, leaving an appearance of floating on the surface of water. A snow scene was painted with so realistic an effect that it was not hard to imagine the intensely cold and quiet winter's day, when such a spot was wrapped in a shroud of spotless white. In vivid contrast to this, was a scene from one of the numberless beautiful views in the Yosemite Valley. The falling water in the background with giant trees, and fallen logs, thickets of shrubs and moss covered stones, all were pictured clear and true. There were several pieces that we have not time to notice in detail, but we cannot but hope that this interest will flourish and live long. It is a fascinating addition to the employments and pleasures of our social home life.

JURORS JUGGLED.

No More Pay for Jurors Unless Earned by Service.

It has been the custom in this county for years to pay jurors per diem and mileage for each day's attendance, and the same rule prevails, probably, in every county in the State, except Storey, where Judge Rising has always enforced the law, to which the Journal is about to refer, and which will hereafter be carried out in Washoe county, and will save at least $5,000 per annum to the taxpayers. It is the law of 1877, and reads as follows:

An Act to amend an Act entitled "An Act concerning jurors," approved March fifth, eighteen hundred and seventy-three.

[Approved March 5, 1877.] The people of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twelve of an Act entitled "An Act concerning jurors," approved March fifth, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section Twelve. Each person summoned to serve as grand jurors, and each trial juror summoned as provided in this Act, unless said trial juror be excused by the Court from serving on the day he is summoned to attend, shall receive three dollars per day for each and every day he may be in attendance, and fifteen cents per mile in traveling to and returning from Court, to be paid as hereinbefore provided.

The law is very plain and under its provisions a juror summoned for a certain day, if excused, is not entitled to pay or mileage.

The Genoa Courier says

A. Livingston, our highly esteemed County Treasurer, has sold out his saloon business to John Simons, and is now settling up his accounts preparatory to going to Salt Lake to engage in a more extensive business. He expects to be here a month or six weeks yet. His going away will leave a vacancy in the office of County Treasurer, to be filled by our worthy County Commissioners. By Mr. Livingston going away, also, Genoa loses one of its best, most live and energetic citizens. He has been elected to the office of County Treasurer for three consecutive terms, and has filled the position with credit to himself and those who elected him. He leaves a host of friends in this county, as well as in other places. We together with others, wish him unbounded success in his new and more extensive business pursuits.

From Washington.

C. W. Holcomb, of the Interior Department, has been in town a couple of days. Mr. Holcomb is one of the oldest officials of the Land Division of the Department of the Interior. He has served the Government in various positions in that Department for more than 20 years. For many years he was Chief Clerk under Commissioner McFarland. Recently he has been promoted to the position of Under Secretary to Secretary Teller. In this capacity he is on a tour of inspection to all the various Land Offices throughout the West.

The Footlight says: Miss Lula Dixon of Reno, is on the Comstock visiting Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wright, of this city. Miss Dixon is one of the advance guards of the Reno Pancake Club, of Reno, a society much more mysterious in its workings, than the old Son's of Malta.

TO THE CITIZENS OF RENO.

I HAVE BEEN A RESIDENT OF YOUR town for three years, and outside of my own business have not seen a decent pair of boots that were made here. In order, therefore, to extend to everyone facilities for obtaining really first-class boots and shoes, I have sent to San Francisco for two A. No. 1 mechanics, the best to be found in the country, and shall run (as heretofore) a prime first-class shop. This enlargement of my stock and facilities will entail heavy extra expense, and I look and trust, therefore, to Reno's citizens, and all the people generally desirous of obtaining the very best of workmanship, to aid me with their increased patronage. First-class material, first-class workmen and first-class work, at living rates, is the motto of my coat of arms inscribed on the banner floating from my castle walls.
